OBJECTIVE.

Contribute my knowledge in programming with Javascript, HTML, and CSS to a fast-growing company that allows me to solve challenges and problems affecting my community.

EXPERIENCE.

Freelancer: 2022-Current.

I am a Front-end developer with more than a year of experience developing web. Development projects such as landing pages. Among the most important have been a couple of pages for medical offices. Using WordPress, HTML, and CSS, I made an informative page about the benefits and services provided by plastic surgeries.

I manage a page for a martial arts academy that sells video courses using HTML, CSS, and Javascript. You get access to the videos with a single payment and by opening an account within the page (it can be with your Facebook or email). I also relied on services like Stripe to facilitate checkout and payments in general.

I am self-taught and have knowledge in Javascript, HTML, CSS, Git, and Github, use of APIs, and recently in React. I have purchased them this way. Using platforms like Platzi and Codecademy, to mention a few. This is the link to my repository where I upload some of my projects as a practice.
